...very dynamic, entertaining and an inspiring speaker.

Karen Gerhardt

I recently had the pleasure of attending one of Glain's sessions... (she) assembled an excellent team of expert panelists, organized the event to provide maximum interaction between panelists and participants, and moderated the discussion for the most efficient use of time. She packed a lot of learning into 90 minutes.

Glain Roberts-McCabe is on a personal mission to inspire great leadership.

As Founder and President of The Roundtable, Glain and her team are helping today's generation of leaders build the mindsets they need to drive both personal, career and business success. Through their innovative Roundtable peer to peer coaching programs and their "leaders teaching leaders" community, The Roundtable supports future leaders with learning that is entirely relevant to today's workplaces.

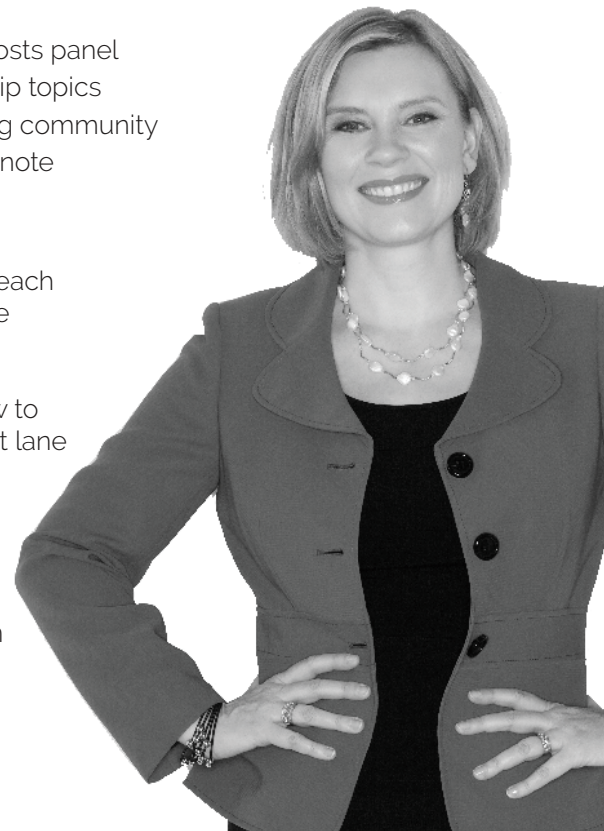

Having successfully led a variety teams in both the profit and not-for-profit arenas, Glain has been at the executive table for over 20 years. Prior to launching The Executive Roundtable, Glain was the Managing Partner of one of Canada's leading mid-sized consulting firms, specializing in the area of leadership development.

A highly sought after facilitator, coach and leadership enthusiast, Glain is a frequent guest columnist for the Globe and Mail and Leadership Guru for BizTV Canada and Arlene Dickensen's "YouInc". She also shares her passion for what she learns through a monthly newsletter, The Roundtable Recap and her leadership blog, RoundtableTalk.

An experienced moderator, Glain hosts panel discussions on a variety of leadership topics featuring members of our mentoring community and is a dynamic and engaging keynote presenter on the following topics:

- Leadership Lessons They Don't Teach in School: 12 top lessons from the trenches
- The Value of the 3rd Opinion: How to stay sane when you're on the fast lane
- Why Smart Leaders Derail
- Reinventing Leadership at Work
- Ditch Your Mentor: how peers can unleash your potential
